MIRROR TWO YEARS OLD

TWO years ago to-day (July 11th) the town of Mirror was placed on the map. During that time it has grown surely and steadily, and today the population is nearing the five hundred mark. The past year has been a flourishing one, particularly in the building line, the number of buildings erected being far in advance of what the most optimistically inclined could even imagine. The ensuing year should bring forth even greater developments in Mirror, and to attain these as soon as possible it behoves the citizens to act together harmoniously. United we stand, divided we fall. Let everybody boost for Mirror, first, last and foremost.

G. T. P AT CALGARY

LOCAL NEWS

Calgary, July 8.—Surveyors have been at work on the north end of the R. N. W. & P. bridge grounds, near the Bow river, during the past week, and it is rumored that they are surveying the G. T. P. line from the bridge to the Eau Claire property, where it has been reported the station may be situated. Workmen on the new G. T. P. bridge have watched the surveyors, but the latter refused to state what the surveys were for. The contractors state that they have been given no instructions to continue the grading of the road, but this would not be done until the deal for the Eau Claire property had been put through. The bridge is to be built on land however, from the bridge to the depot site follows the line of the supposed survey, it will bug the river throughout the barrens grounds.

The bridge contractors have been hurrying the construction of the G. T. P. bridge across the Elbow, and only the last span of steel work has to be completed. The derrick car is now able to run nearly two-thirds of the distance over the bridge and it is expected that the steel will be across at the end of this week.

Inquiries at the office of the Eau Claire company in regard to the closing of the deal with the Calgary syndicate, but was informed that the deal was not put through. Certain members of the syndicate are not in the city and will not be here for some time and until their arrival nothing will be done.

The ballasting gang on the road, east of the river, is following up the steel laying as rapidly as possible, but it will be some time before the line is ballasted and lifted to the bridge. There has been no orders issued regarding the proposed temporary station to be built at the end of the steel to serve until the permanent yard and depot are established. In fact the contractors, engineers and others, who are connected with the G. T. P. in Calgary, have been given no information as to what will be done in connection with the balance of the line from the west end of the bridge, but they expect orders of some sort will be issued shortly.

Mrs. D. G. McKirdy and her daughter, Miss Mollie, of London, Eng., arrived in Mirror last Wednesday evening, and will make their home here. Miss F. McKirdy, of Mirror, went to Winnipeg last Saturday morning where she met her mother and sister. We welcome them to town.

THE PITCAIRN ISLANDS

Interesting People Descendants of Noted "Bounty" Mutineers.

H. M. R. Altagracia. Commander Brook-r, sailed from Esquimalt, B.C., for the South Seas, with clothing, books, etc. and the Pitcairn Islanders, the descendants of the Bounty mutineers, who had been left on the island.

The residents of Pitcairn Island are a most interesting people. They are descendants of the original Pitcairn Islanders, who intermarried with natives. Their houses, most of them, are built of wood and of lumber sawn by hand from live trees, some of the boards for floors being 12 inches thick. Tools and tools from kindly ship captains. The men tend their gardens built back, lab., etc.

Some grain is grown, but not enough to supply the demands of the people, who therefore import flour. The people are a very religious turn of mind. They built a church many years ago in which is an organ. The organ was built in the old country by a man named Queen Victoria.

The population is about one hundred and a half. The men and their families are so intermarried that the majority of women are descendants of the original Pitcairn Islanders. The master and master of the colony which is now occupies the little isle.

The first settlers were from the ship Bounty. The vessel left Sipthorpe in 1789, and the crew, under Captain Fletcher Christian, and three companions broke into the captain's cabin and killed him. The crew and the master and master's wife were set adrift in an open boat. They eventually reached land and there the mutineers settled. Fletcher Christian, the master of the colony which is now occupies the little isle.

LIVED LONG YEARS AFTER AWFUL FALL

Parachute Jumper Dies in His Bed O.
West. Having Survived a Fall of Half a Mile.

The man who fell 3,000 feet from a balloon, lived seventeen years longer than anyone but himself said he would have done if he had not been injured by a surgeon, he insisted the he would survive to go up again. A man from Venezuela in 1895. Seventeen years later, the man died in Edmonton, Alta.
He was Charles Wolcott, professional aeronaut. There is no record of another aeronaut to have survived so long.

Wolcott was the son of a Louisiana planter, who lost everything in the War of Secession. The boy joined a circus based. Wolcott was an expert on the trapeze performer. He was killed when he fell from a high wire, which he had been walking on when he was 18 years old.

On Oct. 25, he was in Ville de Curs when he fell from a high wire. He had been walking on the wire for 15 years. Thousands of natives were gathered around him. When he was first filling the bag with hot air the Venezuelans were fingering the rope and the pulley and tramping them in the mud.

Finally the swaying balloon was in such a condition that he could not hold on to it. He fell 3,000 feet before he hit the ground. The ropes did not open. The mud trampled him as if with a horse. He was so badly injured that he could not even get up. He was left in the mud, his body ready for what he could without checking his descent.
He could not get up. He was so badly injured that his best chance of avoiding mortal injury, if such a thing could be, was to lie in the ground less than two feet downward.

Within 200 feet of the ground he was so bad that he was sent to see that the air split its covering in half a dozen places. Wolcott hit the ground so hard that he was unconscious. His medical inventory taken many days later disclosed that several bones in each arm, shoulder, and both hips were dislocated; that the pelvis and left arm were broken; that the right arm was broken in two places; that the right knee was dislocated and both hips were dislocated; that the right hip was fractured and the spine was pressure on the spinal cord.

Wolcott, who was conscious all the time he was in the mud, was sent to see the only doctor in the place. The doctor said the only thing he could do was to bleed him. He did this all the night, keeping himself awake by smoking cigarettes, for he was told he would not live once he became unconscious.

The next morning Wolcott started on his way to the hospital at Cagno on a stretcher, guarded by twenty soldiers and he finally reached the hospital at mid-morning.

For three days thereafter he slept under an anæsthetic. He was paralyzed, but he could do nothing but groan. His friends told him he would die, but they gave him the best of treatment. Every day he improved, but he could not stand except that of the right hip joint. In a few months he was well enough to travel about the country, New York. There he entered St. Luke's Hospital. Gradually he regained the use of his legs again, but the right hip remained dislocated and his spine bent. In spite of what he had come through, he was making constant progress, and within a year he was able to walk again.

It was barely a year since I had left the shores of Canada behind me

Dominion, which is causing no arms but peoples to mobilize and

Fortune Telling Fakir Did a Big Bust —Clients Were Mostly
Women

Something like 1,500 letters containing money and addressed to a certain "Fakir" were sent in one batch by the National Post Office to the letter department at Ottawa. Most of these letters came from young women in the United States and Canada who desired "inside information" and were willing to pay for it.

The young women wanted to know what their future husbands would look like—whether to marry the tall, fair man or the short dark fellow. For the small sum of two dollars the "Fakir" guaranteed to send the desired information in a short time.

Cash Roiled in

The professor advertised in a number of magazines and newspapers, and for a time the mail was good. Then he moved his head office to St. John, N.B., where the post office authorities quickly put him out of business. Then he moved to St. John's, Newfoundland, where he did a thriving business at St. John's, Newfoundland. Finally the professor changed his address to Ottawa, where he was again put out of business by the post office authorities in that city because suspicious of him, and the post office authorities in the city also among the most prompt in refusing to call for his mail.

Women are the easiest victims for swindlers. They are the ones who like to learn needle-work or how to make garments at home. Patent medicine enter into their list of purchases, and also among the most prompt in being imposed on to call for his mail.

Another Scheme

Upon the representations of a Florida land company a Montreal man sent some land in Florida to view to see if it was a good place and was fortunate raising cotton. Investigation of the ranching prospects led him to a large place twenty or twenty-five miles from the nearest settlement, and he was told that his land was to be submitted to the Dominion Experimental Farms at Ottawa. Following this he sent the Montrealer a cable from Ottawa.

"An examination of the sample came back to him and he did not find it to be practically pure sand. It would have no agricultural value and I do not know what he did with it. I am not familiar with the view of making it productive, would prove remunerative."

"We close about five or six winters and you will find a post office inspector in the Canadian post office who is so strict that get-rich quick brokers are not used to mail to demand to get great extent now."

INDIANS NOW WORK

Scarcity of Game and Fur Animals
Brought About the Change

That the day is coming to an end when the red man will live as a semi-nomadic hunter and trapper is declared in a report of the Indian Department issued at Ottawa. The growing scarcity of game and fur-bearing animals in many districts is due to the man, the Indian, who has come into the occupation of the paleface. The services of Indians are becoming more and more demanded as farm hands and in other industries.

The earnings of the red man it is estimated for one year amounted to $1,464,247, and it is expected to $1,616,644, while at hunting and trapping during the year 1911, the Indians brought in $1,177,117. Canada's Indian population is placed at 104,986, and the Eskimo population at 10,000. The Indian population of provinces of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec added 7,619 Indians to the Indian population of the Northwest Territories, which reduced the total in the Northwest Territories to 5,622. Ontario has added 1,000 Indians to its population, a total of 38,283. British Columbia has formerly led but the addition to Ontario brought in 2,327 Indians.

NOT MUCH LARGE TIMBER

But Much Pulpwood Found in Lac La Biche Region of Alberta

It had been reported that there was considerable timber in the region of Lac La Biche, in northern Alberta, but an examination by S. H. Clark of the Indian Department and the Department of the Interior, brought out the fact, which was too frequently overlooked, that the timber of which large timber is small and only in a few scattered areas. There is however, a great deal of immature spruce and jack pine which needs only protection from fire to be a valuable timber crop. The spruce and jack pine land is generally covered with muskeg, and the soil, nowhere first-class, is very poor. The spruce and jack pine in the east, where it consists of sandy jack pine, grows with marked but very slow growth. The spruce, however, grows slow, but the whole district is more suited for timber growth than for agriculture.

Paint from Woods

Millions of dollars are expected to be added to the wealth of Wisconsin as the result of experiments carried out by the University of Wisconsin in the University of Wisconsin on the merits of Wisconsin paint materials. Incomes from the rents of timber on these materials have for centuries been lying idle in the southwestern part of the state.

A university professor produced from the same paint of every hue and shade from maple to black oak. All proved fast colors and every color showed a good body and lustre. Ten different colors were produced by a difference in the length of the roasting period.

On and after June 20th, 1913, we have decided to conduct our Business on a STRICTLY CASH BASIS. We hope our Customers will cooperate with us, and thus do away with the Credit System, which is one of the greatest drawbacks in business today.

In a business, such as we are conducting, where we pay Spot Cash for our goods and where the goods are perishable, it is imperative that we sell for Cash. In doing this we can guarantee Better Service, and can give our Customers the Best Quality of Meats at a Lower Price. You are reaping the benefit. The North Dakota Fair Association has excluded Canadian exhibits from the fair in that state. The reason for this step is that North Dakota exhibitors would be discouraged because of the good showing made by Canadian exhibits. This is certainly a compliment to Canada.

NEWS AROUND TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Ely Allen, of Page, Nebraska, arrived here on Saturday, June 21st and are living on the Gerard place, two miles south-east of Mirror. Mr. Allen is a brother to C. T. Allen.

Jas. McLaren has gone into an industry that will bring joy to the goose-hunters. This spring he secured eleven wild goose eggs from the top of rat houses on Spotted lake, and now has ten young geese, which he will dispose of to hunters. The geese will be used for decoys and should be the means of enticing the wily goose to alight within gun range.

The annual camp meeting of the Free Methodist Church will be held at Bashaw, Alta., from July 18th to the 21st. W. H. Haight, (D. E.) will be in charge of the services.

SPORTS

Nevis has challenged the Mirror Football team to a game of soccer, and the match will be arranged shortly.

Treochu has also forwarded a challenge to the baseball team for a series of home and home games. It has been suggested that the trip to Treochu including the football team providing the game can be arranged. It is quite likely that a special train would be chartered and the Mirror Brass Band secured for the occasion. Arrangements are now under way.

On July 1st last, an item not on the program was put on by Buffalo Lake, the event being a boat race between the "Buffalo" of Bashaw, and Jim Brindle's boat, the "Kathleen" with the Donalds contingent on board. The Bashawites had evidently planned the race beforehand and were all prepared for the encounter, and counted on a victory over the "Kathleen". Although taken by surprise, Jim was game and entered into the contest for all it was worth, with the result that by the time the narrows were reached the "Buffalo" was trailing in the rear. On the main body of the lake, the "Kathleen" still further increased her lead and on passing Rider's point the Bashaw boat was a mile or so astern. Hurrah!

The Mirror Gun Club will take part in the trap-shooting contest at Bashaw to-morrow (Saturday).

Following is the standing of the members of the Mirror Gun Club:

The Mirror football team will play in Bashaw to-morrow (Saturday).

The Mirror Boat Club intend holding their first annual regatta about the 15th August. A meeting has been called for Monday evening, July 11th, in the school house to complete arrangements. As the Boat Club are asking the support of the citizens it is desired that all citizens interested will attend and offer any suggestions they might have regarding the regatta which will receive due consideration.

A. G. Suggett, G. T. P. time-inspector, left yesterday (Thursday) morning on a trip over the branch south of here. He will inspect all the time-pieces of the employees.

Quite a number of boats have been placed on Buffalo Lake this summer by Mirror people and before the season ends the number will be increased considerably. The Mirror Boat Club have three fifty skiffs at the boat house: H. W. Higgins massive rowboat; Tom Brooks a row boat; and J. Schwartz, W. Marshall, Geo. Robinson and Carl McCormack each have sail boats. Besides these there are a number of other privately owned boats. A small bathing house has been erected by several parties who are enjoying a splash in the waters of Buffalo Lake.

To Editor of THE MIRROR JOURNAL:

Dear Sir:—I note in your issue of the 4th, the reply from the Library Club and also a letter from Mr. Ruthven dealing on that subject.

First let me apologize to the lady whose name was mentioned in my previous communication and I can assure her that nothing was intended to offend or hurt her feelings.

To the stockkeepers and merchants who have signed the petition presented by the ladies, if they have no objections to the sale of goods purchased out of town, well and good, it is their funeral. I would however, that petition had been presented by men, whereby they would have been told to go?

And now just a word to Mr. Ruthven. Does he think that by using all the hard words that could decently get into a newspaper he can run a bluff and get me to sign my name just to satisfy his idle curiosity? If, as is stated in that letter there are a lot of abuses caused by the men of Mirror, why does not Mr. Ruthven get after them, surely he can do it as well as anybody else. Again I would like to point out that I am not attacking the weaker sex, I am attacking the principle of the Library Club, who supported by local money, purchase their goods out of town.

Now Mr. Ruthven, you letter, nothing but canting hypocrisy, and I am surprised that you put anything like it in print after the way you treated those ladies who were present at Cook's ball at the time of the rehearsal. Let me show, To any who inclined to think that they would have read my letter as it was intended. Yes, Mr. Editor, chivalry is a splendid thing, but a confusion of chivalry with other sentiments generally leads to foolishness.

Thank you for the space you give in your columns, Yours, etc., A. CITIZEN. Mirror July 9th, 1913.
